

Colors

Self Portrait

91 x 91 cm

Exhibition Text

Colors is a visual representation of all the parts that make me who I am. This is illustrated as self portrait called, Colors. It is a fauvist painting, inspired by the movement, Fauvism. It was also inspired by Marc Chagall and Henri Matisse. This painting was the one painting that made me feel like an artist; due to it being the first painting I ever have painted on a canvas. It's called Colors because it contains different colors and it symbolizes all the parts that make me who I am.